Guidelines for Audience Etiquette

1. Refrain from talking during the performance.
2. Please show support to these musicians by clapping heartily. We ask that we do not yell out or shout as this is not the appropriate venue for that type of cheering.
3. Refrain from unwrapping noisy candy wrappers during the performance.
4. Please turn cell phones and watches to silent. It is okay to record and take pictures, but please no flash photography as it is distracting to the performers.
5. Please stay for the duration of the entire concert. All performers have worked hard and should be able to perform for a full audience. It is educational for students to hear each other perform.
6. If you have a fussy baby or restless youngsters, please discreetly take them out to the lobby area.
7. If you need to leave the auditorium during the performance, please wait until the conclusion of the piece. Do not leave while students are performing unless absolutely necessary.

Why Music Education?

Music students demonstrate less test anxiety and performance anxiety than students who do not study music.

- "College-Age Musicians Emotionally healthier than non-Musician Counterparts," Houston Chronicle, 1998.

The part of the brain responsible for planning, foresight, and contribution is substantially larger in instrumental musicians than the general public.

- "Music On the Mind," Newsweek, July 24, 2000.

Students who participate in school band or orchestra have the lowest levels of current and lifelong use of alcohol, tobacco, and illicit drugs among any group in society.

- H. Con. Res 266, United States Senate, June 13, 2000.
